

LEGISLATURE
ORGANIZED
FOR '08 TERM

The Program Was Carried Out as Arranged and the Only Contest of the Day Was Election of Chaplain in the House.

SPEAKER TOM C. CHENEY
RE-ELECTED TO-DAY

Senator Gibson of Windsor County Was Chosen President Pro Tempore of the Senate—Other Details of the Opening of the Term.

State House, Oct. 7.

The Vermont legislature of 1908 completed its organization to-day and went through the other formalities incident to the opening of the biennial session of the state's law-making body. Everything was smooth as a summer sea in both branches, with the exception of a contest over what is perhaps one of the least onerous offices, that of chaplain of the House. There were five candidates for that place. Rev. A. J. Hough of Montpelier was elected on the second ballot.

When the House was called to order shortly after ten o'clock, nearly every seat on the floor of the chamber was occupied and there were many visitors. Towns unrepresented were Weatherfield, Putney, Sutton, Hancock, Norton and Chelsea. The last-named town has no representative, and Mr. Otis of Sutton had been called home by the death of a grandchild. Secretary of State Frederick G. Fleetwood called the House to order, while the same duty was performed in the Senate by Lieutenant-Governor Prouty.

Speaker Tom C. Cheney of Morrisville was unanimously re-elected, not even the Democrats putting up any opposition. In fact, Representative DeBoer's nominating speech was seconded by two Democrats, Leary of Burlington and Lavigne of Colchester. Others who seconded Speaker Cheney's nomination were Messrs. Sherwin of Hyde Park, Barbour of Brattleboro and Lewis of Norwich. Speaker Cheney got 227 votes, and the counting of the result made an easy task for the tellers, Kingsley of Rutland, Howe of Bennington, Leary of Burlington and Watson of St. Albans. Representative DeBoer had made a brief but very pointed nominating speech, in which he declared that Mr. Cheney was just the man for the place.

When Speaker Cheney accepted, he was greeted with very hearty applause. In his remarks he urged the members to get to work at once and make the session successful. Charles A. Plumley of Northfield was nominated for clerk of the House by Mr. Williams of Newport and he was elected viva voce. Mr. Plumley succeeds the late Fred L. Hamilton of Salisbury. His first assistant will be Harry Black of Newport and his second assistant Julius Wilcox of Ludlow. Speaker Cheney announced to-day that E. A. Nutt of Montpelier and J. G. Norton of St. Albans will be the official reporters of the House.

The contest for chaplain of the House lay at the start between five candidates. Rev. Perrin B. Fiske of Plainfield was nominated by Mr. Martin of the same town; Rev. A. N. Woodruff of South Barre by Mr. Davis of Barre town; Rev. A. J. Hough of Montpelier by Mr. Fletcher of Chittenden, who, in his remarks, stated that they didn't want a politician for chaplain, nor one who had been haunting the halls of legislation for six years; Rev. J. Hall Long of Panton by Mr. Fish of Vergennes; Rev. P. A. Smith of Hyde Park by Mr. Sherwin of Colchester.

With this large list of candidates, the first ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number cast	232
Necessary	116
Woodruff	10
Smith	25
Fiske	51
Long	57
Hough	89

Following the announcement of the result of this ballot, Mr. Martin of Plainfield announced that the Rev. Mr. Fiske would withdraw from the contest.

The second ballot resulted in the election of the Rev. Mr. Hough, who is pastor of Trinity Methodist church in Montpelier. The ballot stood as follows:

Whole number	225
Necessary	113
Woodruff	8
Smith	8
Long	61
Hough	150

By vote of the legislature the message of the retiring Governor, Governor Proctor, will be received in joint session to-morrow at 10:30 a. m. Committees will be appointed at once to canvass the votes for state and county officers and declare the election. Governor-elect Prouty will deliver his inaugural to-morrow also.

Gibson President Pro Tem. in Senate. In the Senate there was no opposition to the election of Senator Ernest W. Gibson of Windham county to be president pro tempore, nor was there any opposition to Homer L. Skeels of Ludlow for clerk. The same applies to the chaplain, Marcus W. Farmer of Westfield. Clerk Skeels announced that Guy Page of Burlington would be his assistant. The Senate announced to the House that it had organized and received from the

OF A RUTLAND DOCTOR.

Charlie Forrest, Aged 13, Sentenced to Industrial School for the Remainder of His Minority.

Rutland, Oct. 7.—Charlie Forrest, aged thirteen, of Proctor, was to-day sent to the state industrial school at Vergennes for the remainder of his minority for stealing the horse belonging to Dr. J. D. Hamblan of this city recently. While the rig was standing in front of the doctor's office, the boy jumped in and drove off.

Charlie, when arrested, said that he had no intention of stealing the horse. He said he and his father, William Forrest, who is a wood chopper, walked to Rutland Monday morning, leaving Proctor at 5 o'clock. He said he lost his father during the morning and at noon took dinner at the home of his uncle. He was unable to say on what street his uncle lived. Late in the afternoon, he said, he was looking at a horse on Center street when a stranger told him he might have the rig for a dollar. He took the man at his word, got into the buggy and drove to West Rutland. Charlie's story was conflicting in many particulars. When asked if he paid for the horse, he said no, but that he expected to earn the dollar husing corn.

Chased Man With Knife. Thomas Carroll was sent to the house of correction in county court to-day for less than three years nor more than five for assault. He chased a man with a knife a few weeks ago. He was indicted for assault with intent to kill, but the state accepted the plea of guilt in the lesser offense.

The officer had entered the laundry for the purpose of serving ejectment papers but the instant he began to read his writ, the Chinaman grasped the document from Sam's hand, and drawing a 32-calibre revolver, ordered the deputy to leave the place. The Chinaman was crazy with rage and the officer obeyed the order. Later Sam was arrested through the assistance of a man who had entered the laundry with a fake bundle and held the Chinaman so that he could not use his revolver until the officer hurried to the scene and overpowered him.

When It Was Learned That Joseph Caunt Had Disappeared and Did Not Attend the Strike Conference.

SCENIC TOUR ABANDONED.

Hotels Closed Along Auto Route in New York and Vermont.

Manchester, Oct. 7.—The "scenic tour" planned by the bureau of tours of the Automobile club of America and over which its members were to have arrived in Manchester last night and to have left today for the Berkshires on the return to New York, had to be abandoned owing to the closing of the summer hotels along the proposed route. The club now expects to make this tour in the spring.

The proposed route, which was explored by A. L. Westgard, secretary of the bureau of tours, in July, was planned to be taken while the foliage was changing. The distance to be travelled was about 1,000 miles which was to be done in 10 days. Starting from New York the route lay through the Adirondack water gap, central New York lake region to Lake George, through the Adirondacks to Lake Champlain; across Lake Champlain to Burlington, south to Manchester and thence to New York.

"If any one tells you that he will, say to him that he is mistaken," said the bishop. When asked how he was able to speak so positively, Bishop Cranston took out a letter and said that in it President Roosevelt had assured him that he would not go on the stump. Bishop Cranston is a personal friend of the president.

SHOT BY SISTER-IN-LAW.

Capt. Erb of Pennsylvania National Guard Victim of Family Quarrel.

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—J. Clayton Erb, captain and regimental quartermaster of the Third regiment guard of Pennsylvania, was shot and killed at his summer home near Village Green, Delaware county, last night. His sister-in-law, Mrs. Catherine Beisel, is under arrest in the local jail charged with the murder. The woman admitted that she did the shooting during a family quarrel.

Captain Erb, who was private secretary to Israel W. Durlam, political leader of this city, was one of the best known men in political circles in Philadelphia.

About two years ago he was married and moved to Delaware county. Recently there was family quarrel. On August 24 Mrs. Erb, who was Mrs. W. G. Rothmel, a divorced woman caused the arrest of Eugene Poulson, Mr. Erb's colored coachman on a charge of threatening her life. At the hearing in the case she said that she had been informed that Poulson was acting as a spy for Captain Erb, who stood by the coachman at the hearing as against his wife. He subsequently explained that he did so because he expected to institute proceedings against Mrs. Erb and expected Poulson to be an important witness in the case in which Mrs. Catherine Beisel, Mrs. Erb's sister, was to be involved.

VT. BAR ASSN.
IN SESSION

Annual Meeting Was Held in Montpelier

THE BANQUET LAST NIGHT

Members Discussed Matters for Recommendation to Legislature—Retiring President Dunnett Spoke Yesterday.

About fifty members of the Vermont Bar association met at the county court house in Montpelier yesterday afternoon for the 31st annual meeting. President Alexander Dunnett of St. Johnsbury was in the chair. President Dunnett gave an earnest plea for "Professional Fellowship." A memorial sketch of the late J. D. Denison of Randolph was read by N. L. Boyden and one of the late Senator Redfield Proctor by ex-Governor E. J. Ormsbee.

In concluding his remarks, Mr. Dunnett said: "If the bar stood together as they should, this work would receive better attention and be better done, and the whole bar would stand back of its accomplishment more steadfastly. Professional work is no excuse for neglecting our meetings of our social intercourse, because relaxation and change are essential to good accomplishment, and without it one is a commonplace and a drudge. Both the bar and the court should be more folksy. The judges will not thereby decrease their dignity, but will add to it. There is no man so highly respected as one whose sole purpose is to administer the law fairly. No greatness ever has filled or ever will fill the place of the modest, unpretentious man who devotes his whole attention to the business of deciding cases correctly, and no man is great enough to get on well at that business without the assistance, and the best assistance is impossible when distance is maintained. No one man, however great, has the honor of first correctly stating more than an infinitesimal fraction of the great body of the law. To quote the familiar expression of the late Thomas B. Reed, 'Everybody knows more than anybody.'"

"It is to the end, therefore, of advancement in the great work of the bar that I bespeak a wider and closer acquaintance between the members of the bar, and also between the bar and the court. I believe it will be the forerunner of a greater confidence and the forerunner of an easier and more dignified familiarity, from which will come more of the pleasure and grace of social intercourse, and a safer and sounder administration of the law."

Following these formal exercises, the report of the committee on jurisprudence and law reform was made by Judge E. C. Mower of Burlington. It contained one recommendation that provoked a discussion that lasted for more than two hours. It was in substance that the law should be changed so that cases shall not be sent back from the supreme court for a new trial except in cases of substantial error, not on technicalities. The discussion was on whether the remedy should be by statute or rule of the court.

Recommendations. The report of the committee on law reform and jurisprudence was further discussed and the following recommendations were adopted: In amendment of sections 1589, 1590 and 1591 of the public statutes so that the surviving party may be a witness in his own favor to meet or explain the testimony of living witnesses produced against him whatever the facts or circumstances to which they may testify. In amendment of court rules and statute so that issue may be joined more expeditiously both at law and in chancery. A statute allowing amendments from one form of action to another and joinder of forms as at present prohibited.

The association rejected the proposed amendment which made provision whereby the plaintiff in a case brought directly to the county court at his election in cases wherein appeal to county court is now allowed.

A Social Feature.

The annual banquet was held last evening at the Pavilion hotel. Alexander Dunnett of St. Johnsbury, the retiring president, was toastmaster, and the toasts and responses were as follows: "The State," Governor-elect G. H. Prouty; "The Supreme Court," Chief Judge C. H. Darling of Burlington; "The Superior Court," Judge W. H. Taylor; "Reflections of a Retiring Secretary of State," E. G. Fleetwood; "The State Senate," Judge E. W. Gibson of Brattleboro; "The Railroad Commission," J. W. Redmond of Newport.

The nominating committee reported to-day and their nominees were elected, being as follows:

President, J. K. Batchelder of Arlington. First vice-president, C. G. Austin of St. Albans; second vice-president, J. K. Darling of Chelsea; third vice-president, E. A. Howland of Montpelier.

Treasurer, Hiram Carleton of Montpelier. Secretary, J. H. Minnis of St. Albans. Librarian, E. H. Deavitt of Montpelier.

BARRE UNIONS DECIDE NOT TO ADOPT "SIGNAL"

Offer from the Rutland Trades and Labor Council Was Rejected at a Special Meeting Last Evening.

A special meeting of the Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity was held last evening for the purpose of discussing the advisability of buying the plant of the Union Signal, the labor paper which has been published at Rutland, and removing it to this city. After considerable discussion, none of which seemed to favor the adoption of the Signal by the Barre unions, it was voted that the offer of the Trades and Labor Council of Rutland to sell the outfit be rejected.

All admitted the possibility of doing good work by the means of a state labor paper, but the Signal has been anything but a paying venture and the members of the Barre Central Labor Union did not feel equal to assuming the paper, including the liabilities of an unexpired subscription list. Lack of interest in the Signal probably tended to its non-support by the union men of the state. As most of the crafts have journals of their own, The Signal has gone a-begging for readers.

The local unions of Barre have probably given as much for the support of the paper as any in the state, and only a short time ago contributions of from five to twenty-five dollars were given by the locals of the city toward its maintenance. Philip Halvosa, who has been editor and manager of the paper for the past three years, has accepted a position with the Boston American.

There is probably no other central union in the state that will care to assume the responsibility of trying to put The Signal onto a paying basis, and the refusal of the Barre union to attempt it probably means the demise of The Signal, or at least its temporary retirement.

EVANGELISM IN BARRE.

Unusual Interest Attaches to Meetings Next November.

Unusual interest attaches to the series of union evangelistic meetings to be held in Barre in November for several reasons. In the first place, they are but one of a similar series of meetings held in different parts of the state at the same time, and under the same management. This is something entirely unique in Vermont religious circles. Indeed, Vermont is to be a pioneer among the states in starting this plan of work.

The scheme of "simultaneous evangelistic meetings" is not new, however, being originated in 1904 by Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman formerly of the great Episcopalian Presbyterian church of Philadelphia. At the outset this scheme was proposed to be adapted only to cities and their suburbs, not the plan is to be tested in a section largely rural. But there is no reason why it should not succeed as well in Vermont as in the large cities where it has been tried.

Two years ago simultaneous meetings were held in Syracuse, N. Y. The results were remarkable both in the number of converts and in the permanency of the results. The pastor of the First Methodist church, which had made an average net gain of 18 for the past dozen years, took in upwards of 250 to his church on one Sunday. Others received large numbers, as well. And the pastor mentioned declared that the Chapman meetings so stirred and trained his members that he had had a continuous revival ever since, and had taken in as many as a result of subsequent regular meetings as he did following the special Chapman meetings.

System characterizes all of these meetings. A systematic house-to-house visitation precedes them, trained bands of personal workers labor during their progress, and skillful shepherdings follow, so that they are unlike most revival efforts which are so often ephemeral in their results. Great things are expected from the work here in November.

TOO GOOD TO MISS.

Barre Will See a Splendid Play in "Pierre of the Plains."

It is by good fortune that Barre is able to see Edgar Selwyn in "Pierre of the Plains" before the theatre-goers of New York have a chance to see the production. It is a new thing and has not yet been presented in the large cities. When Selwyn completes the present tour at the end of this week he will go to New York City and open Monday evening at the Hudson theatre, one of the leading houses of the metropolis. The success which the play has met with on the road indicates that it will have a big run in New York, and the Barre people who miss this chance will surely regret it.

Mr. Selwyn, with Mrs. Selwyn and Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Harris, will arrive in town this afternoon, coming from Randolph by automobile. Mr. Harris, it will be recalled, is the producer of "The Lion and the Mouse," which has had such a phenomenal run, and also "The Chorus Lady," in which Rose Stahl has scored such a distinct success. "Pierre of the Plains," with Mr. Selwyn in the leading part, promises to equal those other plays of Mr. Harris.

HITCHCOCK HOPEFUL.

Thinks That New York State Will Be Carried By Taft.

New York, Oct. 7.—Before leaving for Chicago yesterday afternoon Mr. Hitchcock, chairman of the Republican national committee, said he expected to meet Judge Taft today in Chicago and would confer with him on conditions in the East, and also on conditions in other parts of the country. Mr. Hitchcock has found time during the past week to discuss the national conditions connected with the campaign with a number of state leaders and several financiers in this city and he regards the outlook for the success of the Republican national ticket as greatly improved. He is confident that New York state will be carried by both national and state tickets.

UNDER WHEELS OF HIS CAR

A. H. Baker Injured in Barre R. R. Yards

RIGHT FOOT WAS CUT OFF

Unfortunate Man Was Rolled Along by His Car for Considerable Distance—He Slipped While Boarding It.

The slipping of his hand or foot as he attempted to board a moving freight car at the Barre railroad yards this forenoon at 11 o'clock, cost A. H. Baker, a yard brakeman, his right foot. The member was so badly mangled that it was amputated at the City hospital shortly afterwards.

The car was detached from the engine and had been shunted onto a siding near the freight house and Baker, as is the custom, attempted to get onto the car to "ride it" into the siding. That is, the custom is not to allow a man to move about the yard without a man at the brake on it, and it was supposed for this purpose that Baker attempted to get onto the car. The brake was on the forward end of the car as it moved into the siding, and Baker, being at this end, swung on.

No one seems to have seen him when he fell, but he had apparently reached the ladder at the end of the car when he slipped and was thrown directly in front of it. In some way his body cleared the rails, but his right leg was caught at the ankle and almost severed, hanging merely by a shred.

It is remarkable that he was not even more badly injured, as the car passed entirely over him as it went forward, rolling him over and over on the ground as it progressed. He was seen as soon as the car had passed and the other workmen immediately ran to his assistance and an ambulance was called, and he was taken to the City hospital, where his foot was amputated.

Baker is unmarried and has been employed in the local yard for about six months. His parents live at Lebanon, N. H.

Baker is resting as comfortably as could be expected this afternoon, and his recovery is expected. Examination showed no injuries aside from his leg. The amputation was half way to the knee.

MANY APPLY FOR CITIZENSHIP

District Court Has a Lot of Business in the Naturalization Line—Over 100 Applicants.

A session of the United States district court for naturalization purposes was held in Montpelier to-day and another session will be held in this city to-night and to-morrow forenoon. Judge Martin, Clerk Platt, Assistant Clerk Swinerton and Marshal Horace W. Bailey are in attendance. There are about 100 applicants for first papers and 26 for second papers. This large number is probably due to the fact that the county courts have refused to take up the work because of the expense involved.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Don't miss seeing the young ladies drill at the Ladies of Clan Gordon fair, Tuesday evening, October 8. They have spent much time and work on same and their costumes are something quite original. The program at the Comique for to-day and to-morrow has four pictures, all features. "The Coward," "A Faithful Governess," are dramas told with much spirit, "Banana Skins" and "Oh, What an Appetite," are comedy pictures and we can truthfully say, they are the best comedy pictures presented at this or any other theatre in the city for a long time, or in other words, you will laugh from the time they start until they finish and a long while after.
